Art Unit: 1791

DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1, 3, and 5-8 stand withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on July 1, 2009.

Information Disclosure Statement

2. The information disclosure statement filed February 2, 2010 fails to comply with 37 CFR 1.98(a)(3) because it does not include a concise explanation of the relevance, as it is presently understood by the individual designated in 37 CFR 1.56(c) most knowledgeable about the content of the information, of each patent listed that is not in the English language. It has been placed in the application file, but the information referred to therein has not been considered.
3. The information disclosure statement filed on February 2, 2010 does not fully comply with the requirements of 37 CFR 1.98(b) because: see paragraph 2 above. Since the submission appears to be bona fide, applicant is given ONE (1) MONTH from the date of this notice to supply the above mentioned omissions or corrections in the information disclosure statement. NO EXTENSION OF THIS TIME LIMIT MAY BE GRANTED UNDER EITHER 37 CFR 1.136(a) OR (b). Failure to timely comply with this notice will result in the above mentioned information disclosure statement being placed in the application file with the noncomplying information not being considered. See 37 CFR 1.97(i).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Art Unit: 1791

5. Claims 9 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The term "substantially" in claims 9 and 10 is a relative term which renders each claim indefinite. The term "substantially" is not defined by the claim, the specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree, and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention. One of ordinary skill in the art would not know how nonplanar the sides of the strips could be within the meaning of "substantially planar" or for how much of the thickness of the strips within the meaning of "substantially the entire thickness".

6. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

7. Claims 9 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. This is a new matter rejection.

See paragraph 5 above: there is no support in the original disclosure for the "substantially" language now in claims 9 and 10 (Figures 7 and 8 support only planar sides along the entire thickness).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

9. Claims 2, 4, 9, and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the admitted prior art exemplified in Japanese Patent Application 11-99564 A in view of Suda et al. (6,613,177 B1).

These references are combined for the same reasons as set forth in paragraph 13 of the Office action mailed October 2, 2009. Specifically, the only difference between the prior art pneumatic tire and method and the claimed pneumatic tire and method is the provision of the equally distributed spaces between the belt strips of the outer belt layer, as evidenced by applicants (specification paragraphs 0002-0006) and JP '564 for example, however Suda et al. teach to avoid using different strips for each belt layer by providing those equally distributed spaces when forming a slightly longer belt layer (embodiments of Figures 1-7 and 9, col. 4 line 19 - col. 8 line 47); it would therefore have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to avoid using different strips for each belt layer by providing the equally distributed spaces when forming the slightly longer outer belt layer. Contrary to applicants' arguments, the claimed spaces do not exclude the Suda et al. arrangement of Figure 7 having the space d between adjacent strips while also attaching the strips with margin rubber 1b of the previous strip. As to claims 9 and 10, they do not exclude the Suda et al. arrangement noted above due to their indefinite nature as set forth in paragraph 5 above.

Allowable Subject Matter

10. Claims 2 and 4 would receive favorable consideration with the added limitation that the outer belt layer strip pieces are spaced such that there is no overlap between adjacent outer belt layer strip pieces (specification paragraphs 0027-0030, Figures 5-8). Also, the examiner will consider rejoinder of claims 1 and 3 with the added limitation that the belt layer strip pieces are spaced such that there is no overlap between adjacent belt layer strip pieces (specification paragraphs 0027-0030, Figures 7 and 8).

Conclusion

11. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
